

09:00	Registration
09:30	Session 1
Co-Chair - Keynote address Baroness Molly Meacher - Chair of the UK All-Party Parliamentary Group for Drug Policy Reform
Co-Chair - Cannabis as a medicine: The history and politics Prof David Nutt - Edmond J. Safra Professor of Neuropsychopharmacology, Imperial College London
Science wasn't enough. Why has it been left to the mothers? Hannah Deacon – Mother & Campaigner
To Be Confirmed Prof Dame Sally Davies – Chief Medical Officer for England (invited)
11:00	Break
11:20	Session 2
Mental health & cannabis: Pros and cons Prof Val Curran - Professor of Psychopharmacology, University College London
Tourette's: A need and an opportunity Prof Eileen Joyce - Professor of Neuropsychiatry, The Institute of Neurology, University College London
Pain: What are the correct targets and trial designs? Dr Rachel Coathup - Research Fellow, Department of Anaesthesia, University College London Hospitals
PTSD: Is cannabis of value? Prof David Baldwin - Professor of Psychiatry within Medicine, University of Southampton
ADHD: Does cannabis reduce symptoms? Prof Phil Asherson - Professor of Molecular Psychiatry, King's College London
12:40	Lunch
13:40	Session 3
Cannabis as a medicine: The legal framework Rudi Fortson QC - Visiting Professor of Law, Queen Mary University of London
United Patients Alliance survey 2018 Jon Liebling - Political Director, United Patients Alliance
Filling the medical knowledge gap with online training Prof Mike Barnes - Neurologist and Rehabilitation Physician
The challenge for pharmacists Prof Steve Bazire - Honorary Professor, School of Pharmacy, University of East Anglia
Ketamine as a model for developing patient data groups Prof Rupert McShane - Associate Professor, Department of Psychiatry, University of Oxford
15:10	Break
15:30	Session 4
Medical cannabis use in the absence of regulated medical cannabis – Results from the Global Drug Survey Prof Adam Winstock - Consultant Psychiatrist and Addiction Medicine Specialist, Founder Global Drug Survey
To Be Confirmed Jeff Smith MP - Manchester, Withington (invited)
The view from the RCPsych Prof Wendy Burn – President, Royal College Psychiatrists
An effective, fair medical cannabis programme in the UK Steve Moore - Founder and Director, Volte Face and Centre for Medicinal Cannabis
Drug Science as a network coordinator for clinical studies Prof David Nutt - Edmond J. Safra Professor of Neuropsychopharmacology, Imperial College London
17:00	Close

The organisers reserve the right to amend the programme as necessary – see website for updates on programme timings or for further details:

www.drugscience.org.uk